Jewish Family Services of Greater Orlando

Annual Report

Embracing Community,
Empowering Individuals

Message from the Executive Director

Dear Friends,

This past year proved to be unprecedented in terms of the demand for JFS services. As an example, our Pearlman and Darden Restaurants Foundation Pantry programs provided enough food for 107,758 meals, which represented an 11% increase of food distribution from the previous year. Hunger is a continuous growing concern in our community. According to the Orlando Sentinel, one in six central Floridians now rely on food stamps to subsist.” Unfortunately, that does not include the countless more that have applied, but are denied because they make more than minimum wage.

However, behind these numbers are real people with real needs. I see them every day in the expanding crowd in our lobby with helplessness in their eyes. To see their faces turn from despair to hope when we hand them a bag of groceries is what I will remember most about the past year.

JFS is not just about food, we are about breaking the cycle of poverty. Both through our Emergency Services Program and our Family Stabilization Program (FSP), we provide the means for families to remain together and keep a roof over their heads. Whether payment is needed for past-due rent or the utility company is threatening to shut off the water, JFS helps alleviate fear by providing assistance. We not only offer a life-line, we offer long-term solutions and a path towards success.

The Center for Counseling, Growth and Development, the Roth Family KidsKonnnect Program, Volunteer Services, the Women’s Forum and Chaplaincy Program provide a wide range of community support that cover all aspects of life. From providing a listening ear for a troubled family facing divorce, to lending a helping hand to an older adult who needs transportation to a doctor’s appointment, JFS is there to deliver compassionate and confidential care.

In short, JFS provides help and hope every day. It is our mission to make a positive difference in the lives of the families we serve.

Your support is an essential component in helping not only JFS, but our community as a whole to thrive and grow. Because of you, JFS will continue to help over 20,000 people in the coming year.

On behalf of our dedicated Board and staff and our clients, we thank you.

The Center for Counseling, Growth and Development . . .

encompasses individual, family and group counseling. JFS is one of the few remaining agencies that operates on a sliding-fee scale to help meet clients' needs, despite their financial means. Medicare and select insurance providers are accepted to provide continuum of care for our clients. All counselors are licensed and have Master's degrees in Mental Health Counseling, Clinical Social Work or Marriage and Family Therapy.

Counseling at JFS has allowed us to work through our relationship, reinvent how we interact and ultimately it saved our marriage.

~Lisa and John T.

Community Services . . .

encompasses various components such as:

 The Women's Forum - an interfaith outreach program developed to educate and support women in a group format. Topics have included "Home Organization", "Health & Well Being" and "Loving the Woman You Are."

 Community Rabbi - Rabbi E. Arnold Siegel conducts a tri-county pastoral outreach program to the unaffiliated Jewish community. He is available for end-of-life services, visits to hospitals, correctional facilities, skilled nursing/assisted living facilities and those under hospice care.

 Centerpieces for Tzedakah - a special program that provides beautifully decorated centerpiece baskets which may be rented for special occasions. The centerpieces provide an opportunity to give tzedakah as you celebrate your special event. Funds raised help maintain the JFS pantries.

 RIDE (Reliable Independent Drivers for the Elderly) - There is a large population of older adults who require help getting to and from essential medical appointments. JFS' grant-funded RIDE program provides free door-to-door transportation to medical appointments for low-income older adults or disabled individuals who have no other means of transportation.

 Volunteer Services - Dedicated volunteers deliver nutritious holiday meals to homebound seniors, help stock food in the pantry, and participate on fundraising committees. Additionally, students fulfill community service hours and b'nai mitzvah projects at JFS. Residents of Kinneret Apartments participate in a group called the Kinneret Angels who knit and crochet baby blankets for infants in the Crisis Nursery.

"Knowing we have made a difference in someone else's life truly makes a difference in our lives. JFS provides wonderful opportunities to reach out and make the world a better place - for all of us!"

~Beth and Joe S.

Empowering Individuals

Emergency Assistance . . .

includes traditional financial aid for rent and utilities in a one-time assistance program as well as the distribution of food through the Pearlman Pantry at our Winter Park office and the Darden Restaurants Foundation Pantry at our Southwest Orlando office. Caseworkers receive more than 110 telephone calls per day for help. In 2010, food for more than 107,000 meals was provided for families and individuals in need. During the same period, JFS experienced a 20% increase in requests for emergency services. Other programs through Emergency Services include Get Caught Caring, our annual holiday toy drive, where nearly 450 underprivileged children received toys this past holiday season, and School Matters, a back-to-school supply drive to help students start school on the right foot.

I had no idea that this service even existed until I was desperate and needed help. I am forever indebted to JFS.

~Theresa F.

The Family Stabilization Program (FSP) . . .

is a preventative, solution-based, long-term case management program designed to increase self-sufficiency in low-income families through intensive 6-month case management and education. FSP helps to improve money management skills, employability and job security, family functioning, parenting skills, emotional coping abilities and improve or maintain current housing status.

In 2010, 49 families participated in the program and were given a certificate of completion. Ninety percent of clients referred for employment assistance gained employment. Of those referred for further education, 60% enrolled in GED or college courses. Fifty-five percent of FSP clients improved their housing status to either more affordable or safer housing.

How exactly do you put into a few words the feeling of being whole again? The Family Stabilization Program restored my hope and gave me guidance so I could stand again on my own two feet.

~Christine C.

The Roth Family KidsKonnnect Program . . .

is a supportive, educational group program developed for children experiencing family disruption. Trained counselors hold group sessions within the school setting to help children cope with the stresses and emotions of their families' changes. In 2010, nearly 750 students from 45 public elementary and middle schools in Orange, Seminole and Osceola counties participated in the KidsKonnnect program.

I have noticed a difference in Kyle's confidence. He looks forward to attending the group. Keep up the great work!

~Connie S.

We volunteer in the food pantry at JFS stocking shelves and helping with food drives. The JFS food pantry is not big in size, but makes a tremendous impact. The thankfulness of the people going home with food says it all.

What does the face of hunger look like?

My mom sometimes can't afford to buy groceries so we go to the pantry for food.

I've been out of work nearly a year and money is tight - I can't lose hope.

Social Security is not enough to live on these days. I can barely make ends meet.

Imagine having to choose between buying food, paying the rent or getting your prescription refilled. Too many people in our community are faced with this difficult choice every day.

You CAN make a difference!

March 1 - April 30 JFS is teaming with the Feinstein Challenge $1 Million Food Drive to raise awareness and help feed hungry families in our community.

You can help by bringing in donations of non-perishable food items to JFS at the address listed below.
