We understand.

Most of us will experience some form of psychological or emotional difficulty, stressful situation, relationship difficulty or parent/child conflict at some point in our lives.

We know that everyday life can sometimes become overwhelming. The best of times, like a marriage or the birth of a child, or other times such as divorce, illness, job loss or the death of a loved one, can create stress.

There is no need to face these times alone.

Support begins with a caring environment.

At CCGD, we offer help to those having difficulty with:

- Family concerns
- Parenting/Step-parenting
- Interpersonal relationships
- Interfaith relationships
- Pre-marital counseling
- Separation/divorce/remarriage
- Child and adolescent concerns
- School problems
- Adoption related issues
- Aging
- Aging parents
- Life transitions
- Stress management
- Depression and anxiety
- Death, dying and bereavement
- Trauma
- Chronic pain and illness
- Self-esteem

Our Staff

At the Center for Counseling, Growth and Development, you will find experienced and compassionate professionals who can help turn your world around. The counselors at CCGD have Master's degrees in either Mental Health Counseling, Clinical Social Work, or Marriage and Family Therapy. They are all licensed or working toward state licensure.

To Make an Appointment

Counseling can be a benefit in any situation. We invite you to call us. No problem is too small or insignificant. For a confidential consultation, call the location nearest you. We will help find the correct counselor for your needs. Day and evening appointments are available.

Fees

Sliding scale fees are offered for those who qualify. CCGD accepts insurance from the following providers: Medicare, United Healthcare, Aetna and non-provider Blue Cross/Blue Shield. Credit cards are accepted.
